Dangerous Good Recommended Chapter-to-Session Map

Study Guide Session	Best Matching Book Chapters	Information
Session 1: The Eruption of a Generation	Introduction (Powerfully Made: Glory—the Dangerous Good Impulse) + Chapter 1 (Powerfully Formed Men: Identity—the Lost Lions)	The study guide session title and core language ("eruption of a generation," strong + loving, broken male culture no longer able to hide, sons of the King) come directly from the Introduction. Chapter 1 deepens the identity call (Lost Lions / Simba parable, activated vs. merely affiliated sons).
Session 2: The Inner Revolution	Chapter 2 (Powerfully Convicted Men: Morality—Simple but Strong)	Exact overlap: the Christopher Lane shooting story appears in both. The session focuses on character, integrity under pressure, "boy-sized character vs. man-sized responsibilities," and the fight for personal Christlikeness — all central themes of Chapter 2.
Session 3: The Lifestyle Revolution	Chapter 3 (Powerfully Connected Men: Community—the Spirit of the Rapscallion)	Exact overlap: the childhood "rapscallions" (Charlie & Todd) story is used in both. The session emphasizes surrender, controlling the mind, Spirit-empowered living, and intentional brotherhood — which Chapter 3 develops fully (transparency, proximity, frequency, community as the refinery for Christlikeness).
Session 4: The Relational Revolution	Chapter 4 (Powerfully Impacted Women: Dignity—the Arsonist and the Firefighters) + Chapter 5 (Powerfully Affected Children: Legacy—Worth and Peace)	Session 4 centers on sacrificial love, relationships (especially wife/family), and being strong + loving in personal connections. Chapter 4 addresses how Dangerous Good men impact and dignify women; Chapter 5 extends the same relational posture to children (time, talk, touch, blessing, legacy). Together they give the fullest relational depth.
Session 5: The Justice Revolution	Chapter 6 (Powerfully Delivered Justice: Relevancy—Brilliance and Blackness)	Exact overlap: the diamond-on-black-velvet story appears in both. The session (Good Samaritan, lightening loads, orphans/trafficking, being a true neighbor) maps directly onto Chapter 6's focus on justice, serving the marginalized, and shining against the darkness of the age.
